Chautauqua At Monitor

Monitor is to have a three-day Chautauqua, during October. Miss B. Margeson, of the Ellison-White Co., was in town for a few days this week and after interviewing the men of the town, a contract was signed up for a three-day six program Chautauqua, this fall. The programs will be given, each afternoon and evening, in the Big Hall.

There is still room on the contract for a few more names and if you wish to sign it just call at the Post-office and do so.

Another Stiff Jolt

Mike Hagar, of Compeer, the third man in the "Moonshine case" which was unearthed at the Neutral Hills Stampede, was up for trial last Tuesday and was accorded the same welcome as given to his colleague, Heilman. Hagar was given the option of a $500 fine and costs or six months in jail. The J. P.'s gave him a few weeks in which to raise the needful.

J. J. Rutledge was up before P. Moth, J. P., this week, under a charge laid by L. Harrison for wages. The plaintiff, who is a minor, had made a certain bargain with Rutledge and repudiated it. After a great lot of cross-fire talk the J. P. gave judgement for Harrison.

Band meeting tonight at 8 p. m. in the Hotel.

Monitor Chautauqua, three days, in October.

A. Lindmark, of Throne, Sent up for Trial

Arthur Lindmark, of Throne, was arrested in Coronation on Monday August 25th, by the provincial police, on a charge of fraudulently appropriating a bay mare in the fall of 1916, the property of J. R. Blair of Monitor, same being found estray.

Accused was given a preliminary hearing on Tuesday night before J. P. Campbell at the police barracks. Wilhelmina Lindmark, wife of the accused, testified that the mare had been on their place since late in the summer of 1916. Several neighbors also testified to having seen the mare with Lindmark's bunch for several years.

John R. Blair, of Monitor, stated that he had bought two mares from a man near Castor, and took them to his pasture at Monitor, the following morning one mare was missing, he had hunted for it about a week and advertised in the Gazette. He positively identified it as his missing mare.

Accused was committed to stand his trial at Stettler the next court.

Coronation Review
J. R. Blair entered a civil action against Lindmark for damages owing to loss of mare, but the case was settled out of court, Lindmark paying the sum of $300.00 and returning to Blair the mare, and two colts which had been foaled while the mare was at Lindmark's place.

A few of the local Masons attended a lodge meeting at Provost on Wednesday night.

ALERT ALTARIO

The feature of the week has been the baseball games played by the local ladies at Major on Thursday and at home on Monday against the Kirrie girls.

The former game was 8-7 in favor of the Majorites, and in the Kirrie contest 24-13 in favor of Altario. Both games were eagerly contested and the rooting was loud and long for the local teams. The evenings concluded with dances and everyone said they had enjoyed a real sporting time.

On Saturday a well attended meeting of citizens and rate-payers discussed the proposed hospital and its finance, the business men and the women's societies keeping the ball rolling until a late hour. We think it unfortunate that these meetings are not better supported by the country people, who ought, even at a personal sacrifice, to try to enter into the spirit and enthusiasm of the project. In the multitude of counsellors there is wisdom, and in the matter of public health and hygiene it is desirable to get the views and suggestions of not only the townsfolk but the farmers as well.

We are assured of an event of great interest in the early part of December, a Grand Bazaar, which will have novel and attractive features destined to draw the last red cent from the flintiest heart. Bachelors will be able to select their Xmas gifts for their best girls, and materfamilias will find this Bazaar a boon and a blessing as the wants of the whole family will be catered for. All that Pa has to do, from now on, is to save up his bacon and gum money that he may stand treat on the great day, Dec. 12th.

At the Kirrie auction sale, on Saturday, we noticed quite a number of Altarios buying bargains. As one lady remarked, "A sale is the only bit of life we get on the prairie," and this is practically true.

The Farmers' Elevator is now open daily with Dunk McLeod as Agent, Mr. Rudolph having returned to Compeer.

We saw some of the finest clematis ever grown in the garden of Alf Wright. The recent rains have worked a miracle, and sweet-peas with their delicious fragrance are blossoming in profusion in the Rexer garden.

The enemy of the chicken house is the artful badger who recently had a lucky haul in Altario and laid in his winter supply of 19 hens and 14 chickens. Fortunately the owner was at home and being handy with the shot gun gave the Badger one in the eye.

The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Oston and discussed work of the Needlework Sale that is to take place later. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, and several ladies took sewing home.

There will be a Sale of Home Cooking, in aid of the Hospital Fund, on Saturday Sept. 6th.

Next meeting of the W. I. at the home of Mrs. Morley on the 13th of Sept. Every lady in district please come.

A good friend has lent us his Kipling library and from the poetry we should like to pass this on to our readers:

If you can keep your head when all about you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,

But make allowance for their doubting too, If you can wait and not be tired by waiting Or being lied about, don't deal in lies.

Or being hated, don't give way to hating And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise:

If you can dream and not make dreams your Masters, If you can think and not make thoughts your aim,

If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster And treat those two impostors just the same:

If you can hear to hear the truth you've spoken Twisted by knives to make a trap for fools,

And watch the things you gave your life to, broken, And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools:

If you can fill the unforgiving minute With 60 seconds worth of distance run Yours is the Earth, and everything that's in it

And—which is more—you'll be a MAN my son!

MONITOR: ALTA.

One of the biggest problems confronting the farmers in the dry farming sections is that of providing hay for their work horses and other live stock. In many districts the greatest part of the wild land has been used for pasture or broken up and farmers are anxiously enquiring for some grass that will provide them with sufficient hay for their requirements. No grass has yet been found that will give good crops for a lengthy period of years and for this reason it is advisable to consider establishing some system of crop rotation and include in the rotation some grass for hay and if necessary for pasture.

Out of all the grasses tested, Western Rye Grass has proven to be one of the hardiest, most drought resistant and most easily eradicated. From the standpoint of yield it is at the top of the list. It has been found that Western Rye grass grown for hay in the crop rotation has shown some profit and in addition, breaking up Western Rye grass sod costs less per acre than has the ordinary summer-fallow, owing to less weeds in the sod land. Wheat yields more after rye grass sod than after summer-fallow.

Note and Comment

Labor appears to be breaking all the rules of baseball. They have no limit to the number of bawls and strikes.

One of the leading papers of the United States concludes an article on "The Passing of the Small Town" with these words:
"Nobody knows whether the small town will ever be restored to its former estate or not. Certainly it will not while the spirit of despising the day of small things is upon us. Now that war is over some miracle may turn the tide of life back to the country, and the young, strong, active home-makers may be able to infuse new life into the expiring small town. We may find in the years to come that people can live happily and usefully away from the great cities, and can even rise to eminence from the small town. As long as we all want to go to the largest school, the largest stores, the largest church, the largest social and political gathering and the largest picture shows and show places, the small towns will continue to decline.
The fault is not with the town but with the people in and around it who can not see that a wholesome, strong, intellectual centre, around which to rally and in which to interest boys and girls, is one of the greatest assets any community can have. When we get back to that ideal the small town may revive and the rush from the country to the city be checked for good and all."

A soft answer turneth away wrath, but a soft drink hath its limitations as a means of turning down a fierce, wild, old he thirst.

The baking strength of the Canadian wheat is what commends it most to the English trade. The weak wheats of England require mixing with the strong wheats of Canada.
As long as the Dominion produces wheat that will answer this purpose, just so long will Canada's wheat be popular with the English miller. There is only one way in which Canada could weaken her reputation for the production of wheats of high baking strength, and that is by the individual grower shifting his attention from the recommended and well-known varieties of Canadian wheat to unknown sorts which have not been thoroughly tested and their baking strength established, according to a recent statement by the Dominion Cerealist, Department of Agriculture.

The big catalogues of the mail-order houses are making their semi-annual appearance and one day this week ten big sacks of Eaton catalogues were unloaded at the station for distribution in the Monitor district.
The mail-order houses are consistent advertisers and the retail merchants who desire to compete with them must use the same weapon.

Bessie was attending her first class in domestic science, and was asked to tell briefly the surest way to keep milk from souring. Bessie, who was an exceeding practical child, gave the following recipe:
"Leave it in the cow."

the paint protected town

THE finest town buildings soon get to look "dingy" if they are not kept painted.

Worse still, the omission of the Spring painting leaves them open to weather-attack and time's decay.

And—with materials so high as to make every building worth double today what it was worth in 1913—you are making a mistake if you let a building "go to seed."

Have your town a "model" town—have it fresh with paint—have it protected with a paint that affords real protection—

B-H "ENGLISH" 70% Pure White Lead 30% Pure White Zinc 100% Pure Paint

If this paint were sold at a price half as high again as any other (which it isn't) it would still be the economical paint to use on your house. In their covering capacity it has no equal. A gallon of it goes so far that you'll buy less of it and yet do more with it. Paint with B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT this spring—and your house is protected for years, where a coat of ordinary paint will last but a few months.

The difference lies in the above formula basis. What other paint is so correct in this respect that its makers guarantee it? What paint can a dealer furnish you that has anything like the quantity of white lead in it that has B-H "English"?

This was the formula when lead was lower in price—this is the formula still; even though lead is extremely high in price. It HAS to be the B-H formula; because the guarantee that calls for it, is printed right on the B-H cans. We could not cheapen B-H "English" paint even if we wanted to. So it's your safe paint as to quality, your sure paint as to covering capacity, your dependable paint as to durability. Find the B-H dealer in your town. He's the man to buy from.

Other B-H Products of Sterling Worth

We carry and recommend the following B-H products:

For Interior Finishing "China-Lac"—the perfect Varnish Stain.	Plaster Ceilings and Walls "Fresconette"—a flat tone oil paint.
Staining the Roof "Anchor Brand Shingle Stains" in 19 different colours.	Varnishing a Floor "Floor Lustre"—excellent for interior floors.
B-H Porch Floor Paint For Porch Floors, Ceilings and parts exposed to weather.	For Barn and Outbuildings Imperial Barn Paint.
